

Richard Buxton, the BID Manager for Stoke-on-Trent City Centre BID.

Having previously served as a BID Director on the Board of Newcastle-under-Lyme BID and spent time as the BID Manager for Hemel Hempstead, I became BID Manager for Stoke-on-Trent City Centre in January 2019. Stoke-on-Trent City Centre BID is in its first term, starting in November 2018, and with a business plan focusing on tackling anti-social behavior and changing perceptions of Stoke-on-Trent as a whole. The Arts & Events are a major part of us achieving our goal.

I have been married for 32 years (I have a brave wife!), I have two wonderful daughters and my first grandson was born in February. My interests include travel, all sports and attend as many music festivals as possible!